

BRAZIL

PEACOCK BASS

The peacock bass is not only the most beautiful of all fresh water fish but also one of the strongest and most acrobatic fish in the world. The peacock bass exists throughout South America and even some in Florida with the introduction of stockings approximately 15 years ago. However, the largest species of peacock bass are native to the Amazon Basin in Brazil and your chance of landing a trophy peacock in excess of 20 pounds are greater in the Amazon than anywhere else in the world. The current IGFA all tackle record peacock bass is 27 pounds and was caught in 1994 from the black water region of the Rio Negro in Brazil. This area is one of several that Exotic Outdoor Adventures and its clients fish each year.

The peacock bass is so powerful that they can break the strongest of braided lines up to 80lbs test and rip hooks from 7" long topwater plugs. They can straighten 4.0 size saltwater hooks as well as strip line with ease from a reel with the drag tightened all the way down. These fish are also extremely fast. When they zero in on their prey, it's OVER. Bait fish nor artificial lures can escape this mighty beast.

Most anglers prefer the use of large propelled top-water lures when fishing for the pe-cock bass. That's good because it's the very best for attracting these vicious fish. The peacock is territorial by nature and when a loud propelled topwater plug intrudes, they come crashing on it. There's not a topwater strike that compares to that of the peacock bass blasting on the surface. The explosion cannot be described in words as your ears will ring, water thrown up to 10' in the air and you will at that moment realize that isn't your normal "bass" that you've been accustomed to catching back home. The thrill of hooking up with these monster fish is like no other when it comes to fishing and the electrifying strikes and aerial acrobatics have to be experienced to be believed.

The immensity of the Amazon Basin shows itself as soon as you leave Manaus. The Amazon is the largest river in the world and has 10 tributaries larger than the Mississippi. Unbroken rain forest seems to stretch forever as you leave civilization behind and enter a world unlike any you have ever experienced: Screaming howler monkeys and rainbow-colored macaws; silent, watchful jaguars and dozing iguanas; and dolphins that live in freshwater. You may not see them all but they will certainly see you.

Your home away from home will be aboard a comfortable houseboat that offers air conditioned cabins with private bath/shower, dining area, bar and a lounge deck. We offer two different size houseboats to meet the desires of every type of person. One will be smaller to accommodate less people and provide a more personal touch while the other is a new and much larger boat that accommodates up to 16 people at a time.

Both of these houseboats offer a very shallow draft, meaning they can access the more remote tributaries of the Amazon even when water levels become very low.

The fishing will be done from Triton and Express 17' all welded bass boats. Both of these boats are very similar but offer the angler the very best chance to access the backwater lagoons and tributaries where the giant peacock bass live. The guides who operate these boats all have years of experience in guiding American fishermen and know how to put you on that trophy fish of a lifetime.

MEXICO

TROPHY BLACK BASS

Lake Comedero and El Salto are without a doubt two of the best trophy bass lakes in the world today. Both lakes are located in the western Sierra Madre mountains of Mexico, northeast of the seaside resort city of Mazatlan. Both lakes have produced trophy bass in the upper “teens” and bass of 8 – 12 pounds are abundant. Lake Comedero is a little older than El Salto and will give the angler the better chance at a bass over 10lbs while El Salto will provide a little more action. Both lakes however, do provide the angler the best chance of landing a trophy bass of 10 pounds or more than any other lakes in the world. Due to their close proximity, an angler can fish both lakes in the same trip if desired or simply spend all of your time on the lake that best suits you.

The lodge operations that Exotic Outdoor Adventures has chosen offer the angler the best in safety, service, accommodations, boats, guides and has the most experienced staff in all of Mexico.

Mazatlan is your gateway city to accessing Lake Comedero and El Salto from the U.S.A. All anglers will spend their last night in Mazatlan at a 5-star resort hotel on the beach. Mazatlan provides the angler a nice little R & R after battling the big bass in Comedero and El Salto. Mazatlan also provides some very good saltwater action for the angler who can't get enough. We can assist you with arranging a day or two of this type of fishing if you desire.

Lakes Comedero and El Salto combined with a first class beach resort like Mazatlan, provide the diehard angler/tourist the very best bang for the buck. Visit our website or contact our office for more information on various packages and setting up your bass fishing trip of a lifetime!
